DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 5/27/2005 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(1), which requires the following: (1) a list of all patents, publications, applications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office; (2) U.S. patents and U.S. patent application publications listed in a section separately from citations of other documents; (3) the application number of the application in which the information disclosure statement is being submitted on each page of the list; (4) a column that provides a blank space next to each document to be considered, for the examiner's initials; and (5) a heading that clearly indicates that the list is an information disclosure statement. The information disclosure statement has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because for not being on a separate sheet. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

The use of the trademark "Millerighe" and "Velcro" has been noted in this application. It should be capitalized wherever it appears and be accompanied by the generic terminology, MILLERIGHE ® and VELCRO ®.

Although the use of trademarks is permissible in patent applications, the proprietary nature of the marks should be respected and every effort made to prevent their use in any manner which might adversely affect their validity as trademarks.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 contains the trademark/trade name VELCRO ®. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe  and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 and 9 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Johnstone (US Patent 5,538,502). Johnstone discloses a surgical chest dressing (10) comprising a flexible band of stretchable material encircling the chest (col. 2, lines 1-5), a means for (68, 62, 46, 30) manually varying the tension of the band (col. 2, lines 1-5) and partially concealed by pocket (30). Shoulder straps (74, 76) and mounted on the band (col. 2, lines 1-5). The band (col. 2, lines 1-5) is secured around the chest, using hook and loop fasteners (46, 30). Handle (79) or ends (42, 29) can be used as grips for manually varying the tension of the dressing (10). The dressing (10) lacks (fig. 4) a mechanical moving part for adjusting the dressing (10). The dressing (10) can be worn next to the skin (fig. 4).

Art Unit: 3772

With respect to claim 9, the method of increasing or decreasing the tension of the band (col. 2, lines 1-5) by applying pressure to the means for (68, 62, 46, 30) manually varying the tension would be inherent to the use of the dressing (10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnstone (US Patent 5,538,502) in view of Fletcher (4,630,610). Johnstone substantially discloses the claimed invention; see rejection to claim 1 above. Johnston fails to disclose the surgical dressing is sterile. However, Fletcher teaches a post surgical vest (10) that is sterile (col. 5, lines 4-8). Therefore, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the Johnstone dressing to be sterile, as taught by Fletcher, in order to prevent infection of the surgical site.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hyman (US Patent 3,968,803), Gruber US Patent D273,331), Farnio (US Patent 5,152,741), Rise (US Patent 5,421,809), Danzger (US Patent 5,503,620), Chase et al (US Patent 5,527,270), Castel et al.
